

American Association of Surgical Physician Assistants

Dear Partner,

The American Association of Surgical Physician Assistants, the premier surgery organization for Physician Assistants in the United States with members in several countries, is pleased to announce the NEW Corporate Partnership Program with innovative and diverse offerings to work together in 2013. This year the AASPA has created a variety of partnership opportunities to help companies reach their target audience more effectively, and see a larger return on their investment.

As you read through the Corporate Partnership Prospectus, you will find marketing and educational grant opportunities that allow your company to reach AASPA members and non-members through the AASPA vault, the live Annual CME Meeting and Surgical Update, and the leading academic journal in the field, Sutureline, our bi-monthly journal. Your partnership will help to support one or all of these growing programs as well as foster communication and learning between surgical PAs and your organization.

AASPA partnerships offer proven methods for exposing your products or services and helping prepare clients for your personal message in whatever method you feel is best suited for your organization. This new partnership program is designed to offer high visibility, exclusive exposure and a larger exchange of information, in an effort to further education and advancement in the field of Surgery.

There are sponsorship opportunities for every budget, and if there is an opportunity that is not listed in this brochure that has proven successful to your organization, please contact us and we can discuss implementation. Thank you for your support of the AASPA and we look forward to your future partnership.

Sincerely,

AASPA

What is a Surgical PA? Why is it important for my product?

The Surgical Physician Assistant is the fastest growing segment of the physician assistant workforce (AAPA NEWS). The Bureau of Labor Statistics predicts that PAs will be the second-fastest-growing profession in the next decade, increasing from 74,800 in 2008 to 103,900 in 2018. AAPA projects that in 2020, there will be between 137,000 and 173,000 certified PAs.

In answer to growing physician shortages, there is a push for more PAs to help ensure access to care. Coupled with this are the prospects of an aging population (who will need more healthcare services) and the fact that more people are expected to seek care due to the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act.

The Surgical Physician Assistant provides a wide range of general and specialized health care. While exercising autonomy in medical decision-making, the Surgical PA can participate in all phases of the care of the surgical patient. This includes pre-operative consultation, intra-operative (first assistance), and post-operative care (ranging from the post-operative care unit, the ICU to even long term follow-up in the home).

Surgical PAs practice in every specialty in which a physician would practice. We have members in administration, anesthesia, bariatric, cardiac, critical care, emergency medicine, general surgery, neurosurgical, orthopedic, plastic, pre-operative testing, trauma, transplant, urological, vascular, wound care, and more. According to the NCCPA, there are more than 86,000 PAs in clinical practice. The American Association of Surgical PAs represents the 24,000 PAs who work in a surgical environment. According to the AASPA 2013 survey, surgical PAs wrote more than 700,000 thousand prescriptions last year. Surgical PAs also play a vital role in the selection and use of surgical equipment, including instruments, barrier devices, drains, sutures, pre-op cleansers, etc. Surgical PAs also participate in the selection of home care services and equipment, nutritional and dietary supplements.

PAs play a role on educational committees, medical supply and equipment committees and more. Surgical PAs make decisions about which products to use. A hospital selects its surgical equipment based on the demands of the surgeon. More and more this decision is falling to the PA. Thirty-five percent of the PAs surveyed make decisions regarding medical equipment and 32% make decisions on which pharmaceuticals to prescribe.

PAs are reimbursable under Federal Health Laws that regulate Medicare. Most insurance companies also cover services performed by the physician/PA team. The Medical Group Management Association Physician Compensation survey found that the average total charges for a surgical PA in that year was $521,225. Therefore, PAs are active players on the health care team!

As you may know, this marks a historic time in health care. All residents trained in the United States are restricted to working an eighty-hour work week. The legislation actually requires that the resident be sent home at a given hour. It has also been documented that the number of surgical residency applications from medical schools has been declining. With fewer residents and a cutback in work hours, who will be using your products "after hours?" We believe it will be the surgical PA! Dr.

Paul Freedman, a member of the American College of Surgeons Allied Health Committee has said that "PAs can be incorporated into teaching programs.... and that full replacement of a 10% reduction in residency time would require 12,200 PAs." Just imagine, that is 12,200 new people using your product or writing prescriptions!

AASPA represents the unique needs and interests of the Surgical PA. Building a corporate relationship with us helps the PA profession and our organization to prosper while affording your company an exceptional venue for increased exposure and recognition. All of our corporate sponsors find a strong relationship with surgical PAs to be very fruitful, and offers an exceptional return on investment. Physicians, surgeons, hospital equipment committees, and others often rely on the opinions of the surgical PA.

AASPA support is a financially sound move to improve your bottom line. In addition, as a 501(c)6 NON-PROFIT ORGANIZATION, we serve as a possible tax advantage for your company. Our tax ID Number is 63-0797410.

The American Association of Surgical Physician Assistants exists to advance the PA profession. To this end we help to improve the quality and accessibility of care for the surgical patient. We seek to bring our members the latest in continuing medical education, assist them in professional quality improvement initiatives and offer a professional cloud that offers not only a way to document training, but remind them of important due dates, safely store their presentations and personal information, and save them time when applying for new positions via auto fill features. We follow the philosophy that the smarter the team, the better the outcomes. It is truly a noble endeavor.

This is a huge task. We are pleased that you wish to join our team. We hope you will become a supporter for the overall good of both organizations, with the goal of improving the quality of health care that PAs provide.

2. Scholarship Supporter

AASPA has the largest student membership of any PA specialty organization. Our students are the prescribers and surgical product users of tomorrow! We are proud to offer two scholarships yearly.

Sponsor a scholarship: minimum Support - $2000

As a scholarship sponsor your company receives recognition in our official publication and website. The certificate is also printed with your name and your company can present the award(s) at our annual meeting.

3. Continuing Medical Education

Exhibiting

Another outstanding opportunity for your company would be to exhibit at our annual conference. AASPA holds its CME meeting in conjunction with the American College of Surgeons Clinical Congress. If your company is packing up to go to the ACS meeting, why not come a few days early to network with influential surgical PAs. It is a great way to meet surgical PAs and their leadership, face-to-face. Please call our home office at 772-388-0498 or go to our website at www.aaspa.com for further information on the CME opportunities available.

Lecture Support

Want even more exposure for your product or company? Consider supporting a lecture with an educational grant. Educational grants allow us to bring in a speaker on topics important to the Surgical PA Profession. An educational grant ranges from $5,000 to $10,000, depending on the speaker and their costs.

As a CME supporter, you will be recognized with discounted or free exhibit space, listing in our CME brochure and CME Program Guide, which the attendees keep with them throughout the meeting and refer to once they are back home.

4. Advertise in our official publication, Sutureline

Sutureline, our official, quarterly publication has been educating, informing, and entertaining for decades. As a bi-monthly publication, your advertisement will be in the hands of our readers for at least two months. It is a great medium in which to advertise for a PA, both new graduates and seasoned veterans. It is also a superior vehicle for introducing a new product, new medication indication, or innovative medical device.

Full page ad - $900 (7 " wide by 10" high)

Half-page ad - $495 (3 1/2" by 9" high)

One-quarter page ad - $300 (3.5" wide by 4.5" high)

Website listing- $75 with print ad Website listing only - $125

Please call Renee at AASPA headquarters (1- 772-388-0498) for more information, the deadline date for the next issue of Sutureline, or fill out the contact form at the end of this document.

5. Sutureline Publication Supporter

Sutureline has been continuing the education of our membership with CME questions in each issue. We are planning a compilation of these review questions to be published as a surgical PA review guide.

- As a supporter you will receive:
 - 6 free full-page color advertisements per year in Sutureline, cover 4 position
 - A display box opposite the Masthead acknowledging of your support
- Support $25,000

6. Hiring a Surgical PA

Surgical PAs are playing more of a role in the corporate world. PAs are involved in education, product sales and consulting, and product development. AASPA is a great avenue to aid you in recruitment of a PA as an employee or a consultant.

The best way to find a PA is to place an ad in our official, quarterly publication Sutureline and on our website, or post an advertisement at our annual CME meeting. An 8x10 posting at our CME meeting is only $500 for the entire conference. Visit www.aaspa.com for more information on “Hiring a Surgical PA.”

7. Support a Gathering

In addition to our CME meeting, there are two other events that are available for support. Both of these venues add to the exposure and knowledge of your product.

*AASPA Annual Reception: Each May, in conjunction with the American Academy of Physician Assistants, we hold a two-hour reception for all PAs attending this meeting. We advertise the meeting in Sutureline and with bulletins at the meeting. Your name/product will be included on all publications. It is a great way to expose your product to ALL PAs attending this meeting. The cost to cover the support of a reception: $8,000 - $10,000 depending on the city.

*American Association of Surgical PAs Board Meeting: Each January, the Board of Directors assembles for a Board Meeting. Get to mingle with this influential group of PAs and PA leaders. All members are invited to attend the meeting and reception. Your name/product is advertised on all correspondence, including in Sutureline. Cost of Support: $6,500
